After clicking on Edit Crew and then click and drag to select rowers (and cox) from the list of available rowers into the positions on the gig plan - the bow thwart (No.1) is at the top.

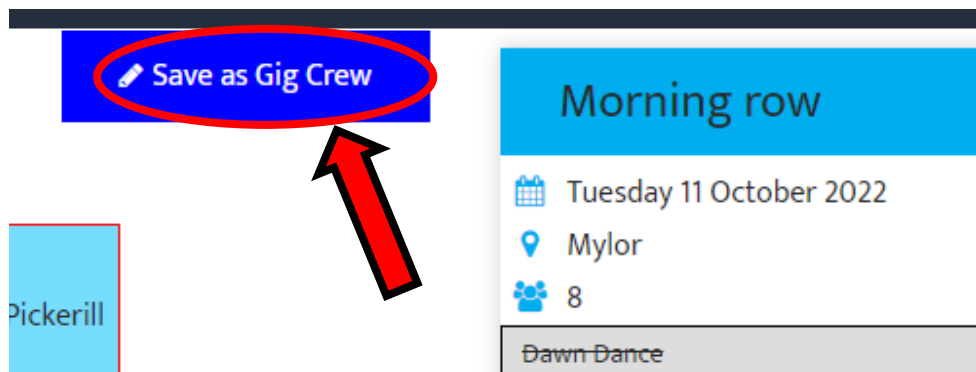

NOTE: Additional spaces available for up to 2 extra crew in seagull and extra cox positions.

Crew members may be changed around in the boat as people sign up and cancel by clicking and dragging either into a different position or into the “Remove rower from crew and return to list” box.

If necessary additional crew members can be selected from the “Search All Members” box, if it is known to the crew selector that they are available.

When an available crew member has been selected into a position, their name will be scored out the list.

During selection, save any changes by using “Save as Gig Crew”.

When the crew has been saved the box turns green to confirm.

When the full crew has been finally selected – which can include up to 2 additional rowers in seagull and the extra cox position (shown as the 2 red boxes above) – you must send an email to all crew members by clicking the email crew button at the bottom left side of the screen, in order to confirm their positions.

The selected crew will each receive an email confirming their positions and including a link to enable them to go directly to the session on the website.
